

Debbie Bloffwitch

Debbie has worked in the Accounting industry for thirty years. Her first position was with a Chartered Accountants firm in North Adelaide as a trainee accountant.

After three years Debbie transferred into commercial practice and worked for Pioneer Concrete as the Accountant for their Northern Territory division. Debbie held this position until her husband accepted a transfer to Sydney which allowed them to be closer to Debbie's family. For four years she commuted to Sydney, working once again in the commercial area as a Human Resource Manager for Nestle Australia. Debbie resigned from this position to have the first of her two children.

In 1990 Debbie commenced with Robson Consulting Group, where she is employed in the role of Client Service Manager/Accountant.
