

Nicola Robson

Nicola has worked continuously in the accounting industry since 1984 and has strong experience in the practical issues faced by small business today. This includes software training, Australian tax law, cost accounting and human resource matters.

Nicola joined Love & Wallace Accountants straight from school as a trainee accountant. She worked on the Central Coast for more than 5 years before moving to Sydney where she joined England Roberts, Chartered Accountants – a mid tier firm located in the CBD and in Ryde. She returned to the Central Coast in 1991 at which time she joined Robson Consulting Group and became a partner in 2001. Since that time, Nicola has successfully balanced rearing 3 children along with the demands of running a thriving practice.

Nicola has completed a Diploma of Financial Advice in 2002, is an authorised representative of Count Financial Limited and is the human resources partner of RCG.
